R&C Instrumentation Customers and Suppliers

11th May 2010

Dear Sir/Madam.

Re: - R&C Instrumentation BEE Status.

For the last year up until the end of April we have been issued with a level 4 BEE status due to our turnover level.

However because of the continued support of our customers and suppliers we have increased our turnover above the currently set level for a EME (Exempt Micro Enterprise) and now need to be assessed as a QSE (Qualifying Small Enterprise)

Staff at R&C Instrumentation have undergone BEE training with Econo BEE and EMET and are at present collecting all relevant information to develop our score card for assessment and to determine our correct BEE level.

Our target for completion and assessment of the generated score card is Early 2011.

We look forward to more business with our suppliers and customers, and should you have any queries do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours Faithfully

R & C Instrumentation

Steve Edwards
